By now, you've learned many different Internet marketing techniques, so this one is going to be easy as pie for you.

Your first step is to return to our tried and true friend, Clickbank. To make this work - meaning, to see $150 coming into your Clickbank account every day after only one month - you're going to need to find five different products that you're interested in promoting.

(A note here: If you want to get paid via Paypal instead of via check by Clickbank, then sign up for Paydotcom. I use Clickbank in all these examples, but Paydotcom is fine, too.)

No matter which one you choose, make sure the commissions are nice and high. You don't want to do all this work for pennies!

(Another great idea for this method, which not many marketers know about, is to promote residual income affiliate programs that pay you every month, like web hosting. You promote a product once and get paid for as long as that customer stays a customer. Residual income affiliate programs are going to take this industry by storm, mark my words! I will be talking more about this in chapter 6)

OK, now you've got your five products. Your next step is to identify 30 of the best keywords for each product. This means that by the end of your research, you're going to have 150 keywords total.

You might want to choose more keywords if you are getting a lot of results from a particular product. But to begin, you're only going to want to invest the time in that amount, because what you're going to do next is write one article for each keyword.

That's right - 150 articles. They don't have to be long, and they don't have to be absolutely brilliant - but they do have to be written. If you happen to have more money than time, it's totally OK to outsource them - try a place like Elance to find quality writers that will give you a great deal for bulk writing.

While the articles are being written - whether by you or by your ghostwriter - in the meantime you want to get your landing pages (with your affiliate links embedded) up and running.

Once all of your articles are finished and you're ready to go with your landing pages, go ahead and submit them manually to ezinearticles.com.

That's your last step - for now. After about a week, you should have a pretty good idea of what's bringing in the cash. Once you've identified that, it's round two!

Take the articles that are doing well, and rewrite them. Then, create a second account at ezinearticles.com and submit this second round of articles under the second account. Rinse and repeat for four to five weeks, and see if you aren't getting serious money flowing your way.

I make it quite short this chapter. But I hope you understand how powerful the technique is.

Best Regards,
