Chapter Six:

Membership Has Its Benefits!

In the last chapter, I mentioned just a little bit about residual income affiliate programs. They really are the next big thing, and I'm going to show you how to get hooked up with this revenue stream - and get hooked on it as well!

While you can search for products within your niche, this is one time when it's OK to head outside of your niche. And that's because the key to making a successful go of membership site advertising is to find products that you know will be around for a long time to come.

Residual income affiliate programs pay you every month, just for promoting your membership. There is no customer service, no selling, nothing. You just sign up, promote using our repertoire of techniques, and receive money every month! Is there anything easier than that?

You can search for residual income affiliate programs two ways:

1. Our old friend, Clickbank! Once you get to the niche you want, set the product type to Recurring Billing. The list that appears there will bring up programs that pay monthly fees.

2. Our other old standby, Google! For this one, you're going to use the quotes function. We'll use gardening again. You want to type in your search query as follows:

"gardening membership" affiliate

You can use "subscription" instead of "membership," and "affiliates" or "affiliate program" instead of "affiliate."

Just look through your selections, make your choice and get ready to make some money!

Apply the free techniques I mentioned in the previous chapters to drive traffic to your affiliate links. I will be fast here because those techniques I already mentioned in the previous chapters.
